

Important note:

1. BEA Union Investment Asian Strategic Bond Fund (the "Fund") seeks medium to long term capital growth and regular income by primarily (i.e. at least 70% of its non-cash assets) investing in debt securities that are (a) denominated in Asian currencies, or (b) issued or guaranteed by Asian governments or entities which are incorporated in Asia or have significant operations or assets in, or derive significant portion of revenue or profits from Asia, and denominated in USD or other currencies including Asian currencies.
2. The Fund invests in emerging markets and may be subject to higher liquidity and volatility risks.
3. The Fund may invest in below investment grade or non-rated debt securities, which are subject to greater credit and liquidity risks than higher-rated securities.
4. The manager may at its discretion make distributions from income and/or capital in respect of the distributing classes of the Fund. Investors should note that the distributions paid out of capital amount to a return or withdrawal of part of the unitholder's original investment or from any capital gains attributable to that original investment. Such distribution may result in an immediate reduction of the net asset value per unit.
5. In terms of currency hedged class units, adverse exchange rate fluctuations between the base currency of the Fund and the class currency of the currency hedged class units may result in a decrease in return and/or loss of capital for unitholders. Over-hedged or under-hedged positions may arise and there can be no assurance that these currency hedged class units will be hedged at all times or that the manager will be successful in employing the hedge.
6. RMB is currently not freely convertible and is subject to foreign exchange control policies of the Chinese government. Non-RMB based (e.g. Hong Kong) investors are exposed to foreign exchange risk and there is no guarantee that the value of RMB against the investors' base currencies (for example HKD) will not depreciate. Any depreciation of RMB would adversely affect the value of investor's investment in the Fund.
7. The Fund may use derivative instruments for hedging purposes which may not achieve the intended purpose and may result in significant losses.
8. Investors should not make an investment decision based solely on this material.

BEA Union Investment Asian Strategic Bond Fund

Staying Short on Duration and Continuing to Reduce Long-dated Bonds

Highlights:

1. Short-dated investment grade bonds show resilience
2. Asian high yield bonds outperform due to higher yield carry
3. The Fund has risen 3.1%¹ since its launch

Fund Features

- The Fund adopts flexible allocation in Asian investment grade / high yield bonds, diversifying into different Asian countries, sectors, and currencies.
- The Fund invests not more than 50% in Asian high yield bonds in general conditions.
- Mainly invests in corporate bonds which tend to be less sensitive to rate hike cycle.

Market Review and Outlook

Review of Interest Rate Market

- As economic data continued to be stronger than the market expectation and with the new Federal Reserve chairman, Jerome Powell reaffirmed the monetary tightening stance, the 10-year U.S. Treasury yield gradually climbed toward 2.9%.
- Although the strong economic data in the U.S. and Europe could result in sooner-than-expected rate hikes by the central banks, the impact to Asian bond market should be gradual and manageable.

Asian Investment Grade Bonds

- Long-dated Asian sovereign and quasi-sovereign bonds have seen the biggest corrections in February due to rising U.S. Treasury yields.
- Short-dated investment grade bonds in the Chinese property and Korean industrial sectors have been relatively resilient.

Asian High Yield Bonds

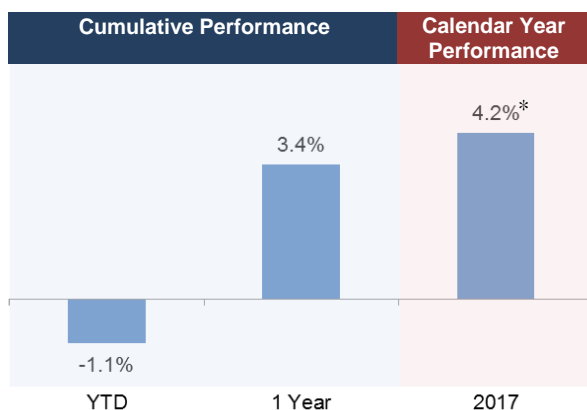

- Asian high yield bonds have outperformed Asian investment grade bonds due to their shorter average duration and higher yield carry.
- Chinese high yield bonds have slightly outperformed Indian and Indonesian high yield bonds due to better anchor support from domestic investors and shorter average duration than their peers.

Investment Strategy

- In investment grade bonds, the Fund stayed short on duration and continued to reduce its holdings of long-dated corporate bonds.
- The Fund remained strategically defensive in February. It continued to trim its exposure in long-dated bonds and higher beta names, while switching into more defensive short-dated bonds.
- The Fund also trimmed positions in Asian local currency bond markets.
