

Important note:

1. BEA Union Investment Asia Pacific Multi Income Fund (the “Fund”) seeks to achieve income and long-term capital growth by investing in an actively managed portfolio of debt securities, listed REITs, and other listed securities in the Asia Pacific region.
2. The Fund is subject to general investment risk, equity market risk, asset allocation risk, Asian market concentration risk, emerging market risk and currency risk.
3. The Fund invests in debt securities and is subject to risks in interest rates, credit/counterparty, downgrading, below investment grade or non-rated securities, volatility and liquidity, valuation and sovereign debt and credit rating risks which may adversely affect the price of the debt securities.
4. The manager may at its discretion make distributions from income and/or capital in respect of the distributing classes of the Fund. Distributions paid out of capital amount to a return or withdrawal of part of the unitholder’s original investment or from any capital gains attributable to that original investment. Such distribution may result in an immediate reduction of the net asset value per unit.
5. In terms of currency hedged class units, adverse exchange rate fluctuations between the base currency of the Fund and the class currency of the currency hedged class units may result in a decrease in return and/or loss of capital for unitholders. Over-hedged or under-hedged positions may arise and there can be no assurance that the currency hedged class units will be hedged at all times or that the manager will be successful in employing the hedge.
6. RMB is currently not a freely convertible currency as it is subject to exchange controls and restrictions. Non-RMB based (e.g. Hong Kong) investors are exposed to foreign exchange risk and there is no guarantee that the value of RMB against the investors’ base currencies (for example HKD) will not depreciate. Any depreciation of the RMB could adversely affect the value of investors’ investments.
7. The Fund may use financial derivative instruments for hedging and investment purposes which may not achieve the intended purpose and may result in significant losses. Risks associated with derivative instruments include counterparty/ credit risk, liquidity risk, valuation risk, volatility risk and over-the-counter transaction risk.
8. Investors should not make an investment decision based solely on this material.

Asian Equities Surged as Good News from Vaccines Rollout

Highlights:

1. Asian equities surged as good news from vaccines rollout
2. Potential onshore tightening affects the performance of China property bond
3. The Fund continued to position in higher yielding names

Fund Features

- The Fund focuses on high yielding Asia Pacific bonds and equities, distributions from both bonds and equities are the main source of income.

Market Review and OutlookBonds

- Market was affected by the sharp rise in treasury yield during the beginning of the month, which was in turn triggered by fear about tapering discussion from the Fed.
- Significant issuance on Chinese property names during the month, negative credit events and onshore tightening all led to Chinese property bonds’ underperformance.
- In terms of investment grade bonds, Asia credit spread has showed constructive tightening movement on the back of supply coming short of expectation.

Equities

- Asian equities were up, led by North Asian markets on the back of strong semiconductor and internet outlook, good news flow globally on vaccine rollout and additional fiscal stimulus package proposed by the new U.S. administration.
- China equities surged, led significantly by the Communication and Services sector, and mainly by internet/e-commerce-related large caps. Strong read in macro activity data and improving earnings from the cyclical/value plays also lifted investors' sentiment.
- Markets continue to look toward the reopening of economies but remain volatile amidst geopolitical risks and trade negotiation.

Investment Strategy

Bonds

- The fund's duration continues to underweight. We overweight Hong Kong on resilient technical, Indonesia on lagging valuation and slightly underweight China on sanction fears.
- In terms of high yield, the Fund will stay low in cash level, and will focus more on credit selection and reduce names with high credit risk.

Equities

- We remain cautious and barbell the portfolios with high quality names exhibiting strong earnings visibility that will be supported by structural growth.
- The Fund continues to position into higher yielding names, mainly in Australia and Singapore; especially those able to make strategic acquisitions in current environment. We are targeting companies with structural turnaround for capital gains or laggards to enhance returns.
