Such distribution may result in an immediate reduction of the net asset value per unit.
5. In terms of currency hedged class units, adverse exchange rate fluctuations between the base currency of the Fund and the class currency of the currency hedged class units may result in a decrease in return and/or loss of capital for unitholders. Over-hedged or under-hedged positions may arise and there can be no assurance that the currency hedged class units will be hedged at all times or that the manager will be successful in employing the hedge.
6. RMB is currently not a freely convertible currency as it is subject to exchange controls and restrictions. Morningstar Overall Rating¹

Value Outperformed Growth on the back of Treasury Yield Surge

Highlights:

- 1. Value outperformed growth on the back of treasury yield surge
- 2. Asia credit spreads being volatile in near term
- 3. The Fund keeps the cash level low

Fund

- A one-stop solution for investing in Chinese stocks and bonds. Access to onshore and offshore investment channels, providing a way to capture investment opportunities in Chinese stocks and bonds fully.
- Flexible allocation in stocks and bonds to balance risk and return.

Market Review and Outlook

Equities

- Offshore index was outperformed the onshore index in February. The equity market has experienced a sizeable risk-off since the Lunar New Year holiday.
- Value outperformed growth on the back of sharp rally in commodity prices and rising U.S. treasury yield.
- Hong Kong equity were up and significantly outperformed the regional market. The market has been increasingly optimistic about the reopening of economy. Macau gaming, Hong Kong real estate, retailers and banks led.

Bonds

- Market was affected by the sharp rise in treasury yield, resulting from the surging commodity price and the higher inflation expectation. Asia credit spread likely sees more volatilities on the back of the US treasuries weakness.
- Significant issuance on Chinese property names was seen during the month. But China is likely to tighten credit in the first half of the year, which may continue to create some volatility to the market.

Investment Strategy

Equities

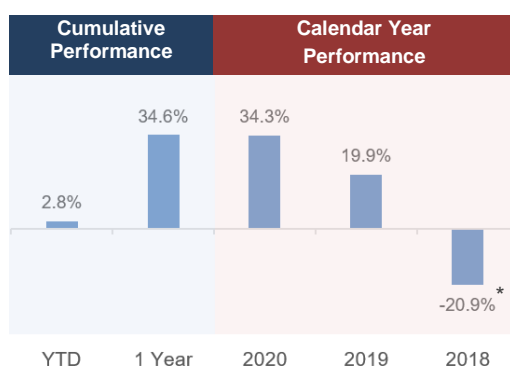

- We maintain our constructive market view on favourable fiscal and monetary policy outlook, expected economic recovery supported by positive vaccine developments, as well as undemanding valuations.
- We are looking for entry opportunities for growth names that were heavily oversold but still offer structural growth story. We would add financials which could benefit from steepening yield curves.
- We prefer IT, internet, healthcare, consumption, clean energy including EV. We would also tactically add to materials, energy, etc.

Bonds

- The Fund will position slightly cautious, given the relatively expensive valuation of Southeast Asian market recently.
- The Fund will focus more on credit selection and reduce names with high credit risk amid an onshore tightening cycle. We overweight HK on resilient technical and China on valuation. The cash level would stay low.
