

Important note:

1. BEA Union Investment China Gateway Fund (the “Fund”) seeks medium to long term capital growth and income through investing primarily in equity securities and/or debt securities, that are either (a) traded in China or (b) issued by entities incorporated in China or entities which have significant operations in or assets in, or derive significant portion of revenue or profits from China.
2. The Fund is subject to general investment risk, China market concentration risk, equity market risk, asset allocation risk, risks associated with stock connects, risks associated with China interbank bond market, China tax risk, risks of investing in other funds, emerging market risk and currency risk.
3. The Fund invests in debts securities and is subject to risks in interest rates, credit/counterparty, downgrading, below investment grade and non-rated securities, volatility and liquidity, valuation and sovereign debt, credit rating and credit rating agency risk, which may adversely affect the price of the debt securities.
4. The manager may at its discretion make distributions from income and/or capital in respect of the distributing classes of the Fund. Distributions paid out of capital amount to a return or withdrawal of part of the unitholder’s original investment or from any capital gains attributable to that original investment. Such distribution may result in an immediate reduction of the net asset value per unit.
5. In terms of currency hedged class units, adverse exchange rate fluctuations between the base currency of the Fund and the class currency of the currency hedged class units may result in a decrease in return and/or loss of capital for unitholders. Over-hedged or under-hedged positions may arise and there can be no assurance that the currency hedged class units will be hedged at all times or that the manager will be successful in employing the hedge.
6. RMB is currently not a freely convertible currency as it is subject to exchange controls and restrictions. Non-RMB based (e.g. Hong Kong) investors are exposed to foreign exchange risk and there is no guarantee that the value of RMB against the investors’ base currencies (for example HKD) will not depreciate. Any depreciation of the RMB could adversely affect the value of investors’ investments.
7. The Fund may use financial derivative instruments for hedging and investment purposes which may not achieve the intended purpose and may result in significant losses. Risks associated with derivative instruments include counterparty/ credit risk, liquidity risk, valuation risk, volatility risk and over-the-counter transaction risk.
8. Investors should not make an investment decision based solely on this material.

Fund

- A one-stop solution for investing in Chinese stocks and bonds. Access to onshore and offshore investment channels, providing a way to capture investment opportunities in Chinese stocks and bonds fully.
- Flexible allocation in stocks and bonds to balance risk and return.

Market Review and Outlook

Equities

- Offshore and onshore indices were down and underperformed the global indices in March. The correction was mainly triggered by rising U.S. Treasury yields.
- Chinese ADRs underperformed on de-listing concerns.
- Hong Kong stocks were up slightly and outperformed the regional market. Utilities and Telecom outperformed.

Bonds

- The 10-years U.S. Treasury yield had shot up to 1.74% in March. Risk assets initially reacted negatively with the rate but gradually stabilized and adopted to the surging rate.
- Chinese property names bottomed in performance, as more companies with margin missed estimates posted earnings.

Investment Strategy

Equities

- We maintain our constructive market view on the re-opening dynamic as vaccines are rolled out. The low base last year should also support decent earnings growth in the next few quarters to come.
- China remains in targeted tightening mode. We maintain a balanced portfolio mix between growth and cyclical names.
- Structurally, we like I.T., Internet, Health Care, Consumption, Clean Energy including Electric Vehicle; industrials benefited from government supportive policies and cyclical recovery are also alpha opportunities

Bonds

- The fund trimmed exposure to bonds with high beta and longer duration.
- We overweight Hong Kong on resilient technical and raise cash level in the face of April new issue pipeline.
