

Important note:

1. BEA Union Investment China Gateway Fund (the "Fund") seeks medium to long term capital growth and income through investing primarily in equity securities and/or debt securities, that are either (a) traded in China or (b) issued by entities incorporated in China or entities which have significant operations in or assets in, or derive significant portion of revenue or profits from China.
2. The Fund is subject to general investment risk, China market concentration risk, equity market risk, asset allocation risk, risks associated with stock connects, risks associated with China interbank bond market, China tax risk, risks of investing in other funds, emerging market risk and currency risk.
3. The Fund invests in debts securities and is subject to risks in interest rates, credit/counterparty, downgrading, below investment grade and non-rated securities, volatility and liquidity, valuation and sovereign debt, credit rating and credit rating agency risk, which may adversely affect the price of the debt securities.
4. The manager may at its discretion make distributions from income and/or capital in respect of the distributing classes of the Fund. Distributions paid out of capital amount to a return or withdrawal of part of the unitholder's original investment or from any capital gains attributable to that original investment. Such distribution may result in an immediate reduction of the net asset value per unit.
5. In terms of currency hedged class units, adverse exchange rate fluctuations between the base currency of the Fund and the class currency of the currency hedged class units may result in a decrease in return and/or loss of capital for unitholders. Over-hedged or under-hedged positions may arise and there can be no assurance that the currency hedged class units will be hedged at all times or that the manager will be successful in employing the hedge.
6. RMB is currently not a freely convertible currency as it is subject to exchange controls and restrictions. Non-RMB based (e.g. Hong Kong) investors are exposed to foreign exchange risk and there is no guarantee that the value of RMB against the investors' base currencies (for example HKD) will not depreciate. Any depreciation of the RMB could adversely affect the value of investors' investments.
7. The Fund may use financial derivative instruments for hedging and investment purposes which may not achieve the intended purpose and may result in significant losses. Risks associated with derivative instruments include counterparty/ credit risk, liquidity risk, valuation risk, volatility risk and over-the-counter transaction risk.

BEA Union Investment China Gateway Fund ("CGF")

Chinese Equities Rise on Ample Liquidity

Highlights:

1. Chinese equities edged high due to ample liquidity
2. Material stocks outperformed as precious metals appreciate on weaker U.S. dollar
3. The Fund has increased exposure in higher beta names

Fund

- A one-stop solution for investing in Chinese stocks and bonds. Access to onshore and offshore investment channels, providing a way to capture investment opportunities in Chinese stocks and bonds fully.
- Flexible allocation in stocks and bonds to balance risk and return.

Market Review and OutlookEquities

- Both onshore and offshore markets rallied in July. The rally was driven by robust liquidity, being reflected in surging equity and mutual fund issuance and rising balance of margin financing.
- In terms of sector, materials outperformed the best as precious metals appreciated on weaker U.S. dollar.
- HK market was up slightly but lag behind the region's rally, mainly due to the pandemic worsening.

Bonds

- Global loose monetary policy and strong financial support will likely stay on until the end of the year. China's economy has recovered to pre-COVID 19 levels, especially in property sales, and the trend continues to look positive.
- China and the U.S.'s technology conflict and U.S. presidential election underpin the key risks going forward. We remain cautiously optimistic to Chinese high-yield plays given the sector's yield difference over the developed market counterparts remains attractive.

Investment Strategy
Equities

- There were robust capital inflows into mainland A shares and the solid incoming economic data confirmed the recovery outlook for China. We continue to overweight tech, consumer, industrials, healthcare, etc. on their structural growth opportunities.
- Banks and communications services remain a key underweight. We will selectively add to materials given the gradual economic recovery.
- We will keep a close eye on COVID-19 development and Sino-U.S. tensions to gauge if any portfolio strategy changes are necessary.

Bonds

- The Fund has adopted a more active switching and bond picking approach to capture solid laggards with bottoming out fundamentals and policy supports.
- The Fund has increased exposure to higher beta names which benefited from the yield compression, and the Chinese property sector given its strong sales performance and trimmed names with credit concerns.
