

Important note:

1. BEA Union Investment China High Yield Income Fund (the "Fund") seeks to achieve medium to long term capital growth and regular income by primarily investing in high yield debt securities that are issued or guaranteed by entities which are incorporated in China or have significant operations in or assets in, or derive significant portion of revenue or profits from China.
2. The Fund may invest significantly in below investment grade or non-rated debt securities, including high yield bonds, which are generally subject to lower liquidity, higher volatility and greater risk of loss of principal and interest than higher rated securities.
3. The Fund's investments are concentrated in China. The value of the Fund may be more volatile than that of a fund having a more diverse portfolio of investments.
4. The manager may at its discretion make distributions from income and/or capital in respect of the distributing classes of the Fund. Investors should note that the distributions paid out of capital amount to a return or withdrawal of part of the unitholder's original investment or from any capital gains attributable to that original investment. Such distribution may result in an immediate reduction of the net asset value per unit.
5. In terms of currency hedged class units, adverse exchange rate fluctuations between the base currency of the Fund and the class currency of the currency hedged class units may result in a decrease in return and/or loss of capital for unitholders. Over-hedged or under-hedged positions may arise and there can be no assurance that these currency hedged class units will be hedged at all times or that the manager will be successful in employing the hedge.
6. RMB is currently not freely convertible and is subject to foreign exchange control policies of the Chinese government. Non-RMB based (e.g. Hong Kong) investors are exposed to foreign exchange risk and there is no guarantee that the value of RMB against the investors' base currencies (for example HKD) will not depreciate. Any depreciation of RMB would adversely affect the value of investor's investment in the Fund.
7. The Fund may use certain financial derivative instruments for hedging and investment purposes, which may not achieve the intended purpose and may result in significant losses.
8. Investors should not make an investment decision based solely on this material.

BEA Union Investment China High Yield Income Fund ("CHY")

Chinese High Yield Financial and Property Bonds Hold Steady

Highlights:

- 1. Chinese high yield financial and property bonds recorded positive total return in May
- 2. Evolving progress in trade talk continues to induce market volatility
- 3. The Fund invests into U.S. Treasuries in light of risk-off sentiment

Fund Features

- The Fund targets to generate additional return through dynamic trading.
- Managed by seasoned investment professionals to ensure selection of quality bonds.

Market Review and Outlook
Review of Interest Rate Market

- The escalation of trade war and series of negative headlines pushed the U.S. Treasury yields to fresh year-to-date low. In May, the 10-year U.S. Treasury yield traded in a volatile range between 2.12% to 2.54% and has plummeted 38 basis points in one month.

Chinese High Yield Bonds

- In May, the overall high yield bond market weakened. Chinese high yield financial and Chinese high yield property sectors outperformed with a positive total return. The yield spread for Chinese high yield financial sector slightly tightened.
- Chinese high yield industrial bonds recorded a negative total return in May as the sector was dragged by few names with negative headlines.

- We expect the market will remain volatile due to the evolving progress of the U.S.-China trade talk, the weakening trend of the economic data in the U.S., as well as China's effort to calm down its active land market.
- We expect investors will turn more conservative, solid names with moderate duration and higher yield pickup will likely to outperform.

Investment Strategy

- The Fund reduced higher beta names and longer duration tranches in the high yield sectors. At the same time, it has been picking up U.S. Treasuries in light of risk off market sentiment.
- The Fund continues to remain defensive and maintain a moderately low level of high beta and long duration names in view of the uncertain macro economy, trade talk risk and tightening property policy in China.
